Abstract

This article is a compilation of all the books that have been listed in the “Recent Publications” section of The Methodist Review Newsletter since the first issue in January 2011.

Introduction

The Methodist Review Newsletter is a free supplemental service of Methodist Review, which publishes scholarly articles in all areas and eras of Wesleyan and Methodist studies, broadly understood. Since 2011, the newsletter has been published quarterly (January, April, July, October). Each issue of the newsletter has had several sections, including a list of “Recent Publications” in Wesleyan and Methodist studies and closely related ancillary fields. This article is a compilation of all the books that have been listed in newsletter since the first issue in January 2011.

The list of books is arranged alphabetically by author or editor. The date in brackets at the end of each entry indicates the issue of the newsletter in which the book was first listed: for example, [2011-01] = the January 2011 issue of the newsletter. The list includes only complete volumes, not book chapters or journal essays, and does not include doctoral dissertations or other academic theses. Works published prior to 2011 are not included save in the case of a few reprint editions of classic works. Many of the works listed here may now be available in Kindle or eBook form; such availability is noted only when it was known at the first listing of a work.

The list, which includes almost 700 titles, serves to demonstrate the depth, breadth, and vitality of scholarly work in Wesleyan and Methodist studies and related fields during the past decade. The editorial staff of Methodist Review hope that the readers of the journal will find this book list interesting and helpful in their own work.

About the Authors

Rex D. Matthews is Research Fellow and Professor Emeritus in the Practice of Historical Theology and Wesleyan Studies at Candler School of Theology, Emory University. He served as the managing editor of Methodist Review from its launch in 2009 through 2021. His major publications include Timetables of History for Students of Methodism (2007); The Renewal of United Methodism: Mission, Ministry and Connectionalism. Essays in Honor of Russell E. Richey (2012); The Vocation of Theology: Inquiry, Dialogue, Adoration (2017); and Ministerial Orders and Sacramental Authority in The United Methodist Church and Its Antecedents, 1784–2016 (2018). He retired from the Candler School of Theology faculty in 2018 but has recently been appointed as the inaugural Russell E. Richey and Merle Umstead Richey Visiting Professor in Methodist and Wesleyan Studies for the 2022–2023 academic year.

M. Kathryn Armistead is an author, scholar, and United Methodist clergyperson. Most recently, she was the publisher of GBHEM Publishing, an affiliate member of the Association of University Presses, sponsored by the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry, The United Methodist Church. Kathy is the author of a number of books and articles and is currently the managing editor of Methodist Review. She also serves on the Bible Translation and Utilization Advisory Committee (BTU), which operates under the direction of the Friendship Press Board of Directors of the National Council of Churches to provide guidance and counsel on matters related to the New Revised Standard Version Updated Edition of the Bible (NRSVue).
